2024 OFFERTORY READINGS

Our mission is "to reach the North American Division and the world with the distinctive, Christ-centered Seventh-day Adventist message of hope and wholeness." Stewardship Ministries is dedicated to helping members catch this vision.

Systematic giving is part of being a faithful steward. When we return tithe, we are recognizing that God owns everything. Giving offerings expresses our gratitude for what God has done for us. God loves a cheerful giver and He has chosen this method to support those who preach the gospel as they reach the world with His message.

You will find an extensive selection of videos emphasizing various offerings by visiting our website at www.nadstewardship.org/videos. You can use them in conjunction with the offering appeals or in place of them. They average between a-minute-and-a-half and two minutes in length.

Faithful stewardship is a matter of the heart. We don't give to receive love and blessings from God. We give because we have already received God's love and blessings. We give because our hearts and lives are full of the joy of the Lord. We give because we want to live out God's character of abundant generosity—especially as exhibited through the giving of the ultimate gift: the life of His Son. Giving is a natural response for recipients of God's goodness.

God's blessings to you as you help others experience the joy of faithful stewardship.

2024 OFFERING APPEALS FOR THE LOCAL CHURCH

Pastor and Elder calling for the offerings:

Typically, on the 1st and 3rd Sabbath of each month, the offering appeal is for the Local Church Budget.

We are making 2 suggestions:

- We are giving the heading of those Sabbaths a slight title change to "LOCAL CHURCH MINISTRY/MISSION (BUDGET)," here on the printed offering appeal each month that you receive from the Conference. You don't have to change your tithe envelope, as people remember "Budget."
 - We hope this will better help you members to think of the "mission reason" your church exists, not just that your church has bills to pay into the "Black Hole" of a thing called Budget.
- 2. Although we give you the NAD standard reading for those 1st and 3rd Sabbaths, we are encouraging you to take your own initiative and consider one of the options listed below:
 - Take one Sabbath per month and feature one of your local church's ministry activities.
 - 2. Have your ministry leader describe what that ministry has done, people served or what is prayerfully planned for the coming year.
 - 3. Perhaps interview the ministry leader, and just ask 3 simple questions, such as what we shared above.
 - 4. Possible ministries to feature could be:
 - a. Each of your children's SS departments, one per month, such as kindergarten, primary, juniors, teens, youth, etc.
 - b. Your Church school if your church is supporting one.
 - c. Each of your Outreach ministries or Personal Ministries.
 - d. Any Compassion ministries your church does through the year.
 - e. Along with that would be Adventist Community Services.
 - f. Your Food Bank if you offer one.
 - g. VBS or summer ministry.
 - h. Pathfinders and Adventurers.
 - i. An Adult SS Teacher/class
 - Any other ministry your local church leads, provides, serves and is engaged in.

In other words, tell the story of what your church is doing in ministry, the reason for its existence, and why it is great to be a part of supporting my local church's mission!

We believe in the local church. And we hope and pray that these suggestions might help your local members think of the ministry of their church congregation with their financial support through their offerings.

About My Personal Giving Plan

The North American Division encourages the use of the "My Personal Giving Plan." This plan was developed as a guideline to assist members in systematic giving. The plan suggests that, in addition to returning 10 percent of a member's personal income as tithe, certain percentages may be dedicated as offerings to three main categories:

Local Church Budget: 3–5 percent
Conference Advance: 1–2 percent (education, evangelism, VBS, summer camps, and Union magazines)

• World Budget: 1–3 percent

Visit https://www.personalgivingplan.com to see a more extensive breakdown for each category.

The My Personal Giving Plan encourages each of us to renew our commitment to the principles of Christian stewardship. While it blesses the church as a whole, its real impact is on us as individuals in our faith-based covenant with God.

Everything in God's creation is orderly and purposeful. The same can be said of the My Personal Giving Plan. Like all plans, it requires thought and consideration. No great work can be built upon emotional or sporadic giving.

Where Do My Offerings Go?

13th Sabbath Offering

You've heard how everyone in an Amish community comes together for a barn raising. Well, Seventh-day Adventists also have projects where we all pitch in to accomplish a goal. That is the purpose of the 13th Sabbath offering. Every 13th Sabbath, the church focuses on one of its world Divisions to accomplish a mission goal. The offering often goes toward constructing a building that will be used for education, evangelism, or media outreach. The 13th Sabbath offerings have been used to establish schools such as Central Philippine Adventist College. A recent offering made a youth camp possible in Belize. All the church members around the world join hands in these projects through sacrificial giving. In 1913, the 13th Sabbath overflow amounted to 474 dollars. Now, it exceeds a quarter of a million dollars. We call it an overflow offering because it encourages extra giving beyond the usual mission offering. In practice, 25 percent of the 13th Sabbath offering is considered overflow. The rest is more broadly distributed to continue mission work around the globe. You can also give a 13th Sabbath offering anytime by marking it on your tithe envelope. Do you want to be part of something big? You'll be part of a worldwide community expanding Adventist mission work when you give to the 13th Sabbath offering. Remember: Our giving funds the mission to finish the work.

Birthday Thank Offering

On your birthday, you usually get a present. However, in church, many people give a gift on their special day. It is called a Birthday Thank Offering. Have you ever given someone a thank-you gift? Maybe they watched your cat for a weekend or sang a song at your wedding, and you just wanted to show how grateful you felt. Well, church members sometimes offer a gift of pure gratitude to God. It might be on the occasion of a birthday, thanking God for the blessings of the past year. Or maybe thanking Him for one blessing in particular, such as a promotion at work. Or a new grandbaby. They mark it on their tithe envelope as a Birthday Thank Offering.

So, what happens to the Birthday Thank Offering? This gift is directed to church Divisions outside North America to do mission work. Much of it is used in evangelistic activities, but some also goes to clinics, hospitals, and educational institutions. A portion of your gift goes to administer the General Conference mission program, helping to move missionaries into new fields and advance the Adventist message. Thus, your gift of gratitude goes to missionaries and church institutions around the world who in turn will accept it with gratitude. It shows that being thankful can be contagious, doesn't it?

Conference Advance

Your local Conference is a sisterhood of local churches that helps each congregation within its boundaries to accomplish important objectives that are beyond the reach of any one church alone. A Conference Advance offering addresses these specific needs as well as a variety of special projects. One of the largest portions goes to fund Christian education. Another substantial part of the Conference Advance offering is set aside for evangelism in the local community. It is also used to finance programs and advertising that most local churches cannot shoulder alone. Child evangelism, inner-city evangelism, Vacation Bible School, summer camps, and youth evangelism are also areas supported by the Conference Advance offering. Another benefit of the Conference Advance offering is the popular Union papers and magazines that are shipped free of charge to church members. These informative publications help to unite believers over a large area and create a sense of community. All of these educational and life-changing programs are possible because individual members choose to contribute a suggested amount of 1 to 2 percent of their income to Conference Advance.

Perhaps the most obvious need addressed in the My Personal Giving Plan is the local church. Like every family, the local church family has financial obligations to meet. Some are easy to see like power and heat, but many are not as obvious: children's magazines, Sabbath School Bible study guides, teaching supplies, staff salaries, cleaning services, church school operating expenses, property insurance, worthy student fund, and community outreach. These are but a few of the costs that must be met month after month as the local church seeks to be a light in the community. Because these expenses are constant, My Personal Giving Plan recommends that 3 to 5 percent of one's income be set aside for the local church budget. This systematic giving ensures that all share both in the blessings and the responsibilities of the local congregation.

Mission Investment Offering

The Mission Investment Offering is a partnership between you and God. You pick a project and dedicate the income to the Mission Investment Offering.

Here's an example involving chickens! When Kelly Rose Bishop was a teenager, she decided to commit 10 percent of her egg business to investment. She sold eggs to regular customers and to people who just stopped by her house. After two months, she noticed that her sales had gone up by 50 percent. That's how the partnership worked. She promised to give 10 percent of her income (that was her part), but she believes that God blessed her little business because the 10 percent grew due to a new larger income. That was God's part.

There are many ways to enter into partnership with God. For example, you might dedicate the money you save using coupons at the grocery store, or you can dedicate the money you save by skipping dessert when eating out. One person picked up aluminum cans that she found on her morning run and gave the proceeds to investment. Every dollar you raise goes to advance Adventist missions overseas. Come up with your own mission investment idea today.

Sabbath School Mission Offering

When the Sabbath School Mission Offering envelope comes around, it is easy to slip in a dollar or two. But when you find out where it goes, you might want to give more!

The mission offering travels to church Divisions outside North America where the needs are great. Much of it is used in evangelistic activities, but some also goes to aid clinics, hospitals, and educational institutions. Adventist World Radio gets help from this offering, and a portion of your gift goes to administer the General Conference's mission program, which helps to train and move missionaries into new fields to advance the Adventist message. The offering that you give in your Sabbath School room literally goes a long way as it aids mission work around the globe.

World Budget Offering

The Seventh-day Adventist Church is a worldwide church, and the world budget is our contribution to this global mission.

From the earliest days of the Adventist Church, men and women have responded to Christ's Great Commission by looking beyond their own shores. Today, Seventh-day Adventists make up one of the fastest growing Christian churches in the world, with more than 3,000 people being baptized every day! In more than 200 countries and in more than 600 languages, the message of Jesus's soon return can be heard.

Historically, it has been the privilege and duty of materially blessed members in developed nations to plant seeds of growth in poorer regions of the world. New evangelistic strategies that address everchanging global realities are constantly being developed, and our offerings give life to these new programs. My Personal Giving Plan recommends that 1 to 3 percent of our income be set aside for this global outreach. Working together, we can make sure the Adventist message continues to grow worldwide.

Special Projects Offerings

These offerings include ministries such as Women's Ministries and Christian Record Services. My Personal Giving Plan doesn't recommend a specific percentage for these since the need and scope will vary from project to project. For example, these offerings support undertaking local church building initiatives or a mission trip. The special projects also include requests for help from denominational entities such as ADRA and Adventist World Radio, as well as other Adventist supporting ministries that you may wish to assist.

CANADIAN UNION

The Maskwacis Congregation of the Cree Nation is at a critical juncture. They had been thriving in a rented building until they lost that rental option and had to move further from their population center. This offering will help them build a new building in a central location that offers community programs on physical and mental health as well as religious services.

SOUTHWESTERN UNION

The Oklahoma Conference wishes to help the large and growing unsheltered population in Oklahoma City by acquiring and operating a shower trailer for them. This will help to promote dignity, health, and hygiene in a population with few resources.

The Texas Conference wishes to plant a church for the young professional population in Austin.

ATLANTIC UNION

The Southern New England Conference wishes to plant a church in Boston that will speak to the needs of the secular and post-Christian urban population.

The Northern New England Conference wishes to reach the post-Christian young professionals of Portland, ME through young missionaries who will serve one-year internships to conduct compassion and felt-need initiatives, give Bible studies, and lead evangelistic campaigns to reach the members of their own generation. Dear Presenter,

Thank you for your willingness to share the offering appeals with your local congregation. It is a wonderful and gratifying responsibility. How you present these readings will determine how effective they are. Here are some suggestions to consider before you share:

Pray: Pray for the power of the Holy Spirit. Pray that God will use your words to speak to the hearts in the congregation.

Practice: Read over the appeal at least three times to familiarize yourself with it. Read slowly and clearly. Underline or highlight key words to be emphasized during the reading. Strive to share these readings with excellence.

Prepare: Sometimes materials for special days are sent to your local church to distribute or present along with the appeal. Determine how they can be used most effectively.

Personalize: If you have a personal experience that you think will add strength to the appeal, please share it. People connect with others through stories.

Present with Passion: A presentation can have all the above elements, but without passion, it may not stir the hearts of the hearers. Ask God to fill your heart with His Spirit so that you can present the appeal with spirit and truth.

May God richly bless you and speak through you as we take this journey together in 2024.

Each new year brings with it a new promise of change. As a college professor, when I look into the eyes of new students each semester, I see hope and excitement for a better future. Similarly, many have entered the doors of our local churches in search of hope for a better future. Like a student who is given a clean slate on the first day of class, the gospel of the hope in Jesus that we have as Christians provides us all with a clean slate through salvation!

Students sit in my classroom, hopeful to have their thirst for knowledge filled by what they will learn day after day together. And the thing I like to impress on all of my classes is that they will get exactly what they put into the class. If they show up, engage in discussion, and choose to intentionally connect, they will get a lot out of it.

Much of the blessing of being part of a local church comes from choosing to intentionally connect. One profound way to do that is through giving to our local church offering. "You, God, are my God, earnestly I seek you; I thirst for you, my whole being longs for you, in a dry and parched land where there is no water" (Psalm 63:1, NLT). Our local church community exists to serve those in the immediate surrounding community as well as believers worldwide.

Religious Liberty

Today, more than two-thirds of the world's population live in countries where there are restrictions on religious liberty. As we worship together this morning, religious freedom is denied in places such as North Korea and Saudi Arabia. In Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iran, and many other countries religious minorities face hostility and danger. In China, people of faith endure government surveillance and restrictions.

This morning, in North America, we are blessed. We have the constitutional right to worship—openly and without fear. We can share our faith freely with others. Yet even here, we can't take this blessing for granted. As we read the headlines and look at the culture around us, we can see that the God-given gift of religious freedom is not always valued as it should be. And even today, in this land of liberty, Sabbath-keepers still face challenges in the workplace.

More than 150 years ago, Ellen White urged us to "hold high the banner of truth and religious liberty" in these last days. The offering we will collect now allows our church in North America to do exactly that—to defend religious freedom in the courts, to support church members who face discrimination in the workplace, and to send almost a million copies of Liberty magazine each year to lawmakers and thought leaders across our nation. Please give generously as together we work to safeguard the precious gift of religious liberty.

Did you know that a Chinese bamboo plant takes, on average, about five years of caring for it before you see any part of the plant burst through the soil? That means for five long years you have to water it, care for it, and ensure it gets all of the nutrients required, without seeing any immediate results. However, once it is ready to come out of the ground and grow tall, it can grow as much as ninety feet in just five weeks! All of the years of caring for the plant led to seemingly "quick" growth.

Similarly, we can sometimes miss the long-term impact of our local church ministries. We may not witness with our own eyes anything extraordinary occurring in a single children's Sabbath School class, during a Women's Ministry Bible study, or at a Wednesday night prayer meeting. Yet, at each and every one of these gatherings, souls are being watered and nurtured, little by little.

Today's offering is for our local church budget. "And let us not grow weary while doing good, for in due season we shall reap if we do not lose heart" (Galatians 6:9, NKJV). The seeds we sow through our offering help to support the mission and ministry of our local church. Today, I invite you to reflect on the blessings that have been sown in your own life through our church as we collect our offering.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING – GEORGIA CUMBERLAND ACADEMY

In seventh grade TJ McFarland and his older sister moved in with his great aunt due to a challenging family situation. A Seventh-day Adventist educator, his aunt enrolled TJ and his sister at her school.

When the recruiter from Georgia-Cumberland Academy came to visit the school. TJ was immediately drawn to GCA, but his aunt told him the cost of tuition was beyond their means. TJ confidently told her that God would work it out as he was set on attending GCA. Thanks to donors who believe in the mission of Adventist education TJ received financial assistance and enrolled at GCA.

A four-year senior now, TJ is a Resident Assistant, the Student Association pastor, and a member of the GCA gymnastics team. He credits GCA for giving him opportunities to develop his leadership skills. "GCA has helped me grow mentally, physically, and spiritually," TJ says. "I want to be like Christ and use my leadership abilities to impact the world for good like Jesus did."

Because of your support today, TJ and others like him will have an opportunity to grow in their walk with God by attending Georgia-Cumberland Academy. If not for your support, students who need financial assistance would not be able to attend GCA.

By ourselves, no one of us could build, operate and staff an academy for 300 students. But together, we can! Together we can provide a place where students can learn the lessons necessary to take their place in society, and to be spiritual leaders for Christ in this generation. Your gift today to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* will help to continue this vital educational ministry and make it possible for students to attend Georgia-Cumberland Academy.

*Each Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering benefits the following ministries:

50% Evangelism

20% Church and School Capital Building assistance

10% Cohutta Capital Building assistance

10% Georgia-Cumberland Academy

5% Atlanta Adventist Academy

5% Georgia-Cumberland Elementary Schools

"And His name, through faith in His name, has made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which comes through Him has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all" (Acts 3:16, NKJV). In the book of Acts, Jesus' followers were given incredible power through Jesus to heal people! How amazing is that?

The scriptures teach us about our all-powerful God who desires to work through us. I have found that God places people in my path to remind me of His power. One time, a young woman came to see me during my office hours. She did not come to discuss class assignments – she came looking for this God of miracles that I share in my communications classes. Meeting after meeting, I was delighted to listen to her wrestle with her faith, and I was grateful to pray with her. Most of the time when we met, I just listened. And yet, in our busy world, listening to someone can be one of the greatest gifts you can give to them.

That woman has since graduated and left our university, but I know without a doubt that our meetings, shared laughter, and prayer allowed her to see the love of Christ more fully, through having someone to lean on spiritually. Friends, today we have the opportunity to give so that our local church continues to be a blessing to those around us.

Adventist Television Ministries Evangelism

"Then I saw another angel flying in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach to those who dwell on the earth..." (Revelation 14:6).

Today, this verse is being fulfilled with television ministries. The Adventist gospel message is flying in the midst of heaven in the airwaves of television. There are seven media ministries under the umbrella of the North American Division: Faith for Today, It Is Written, Breath of Life, Jesus 101, Voice of Prophecy, La Voz de la Esperanza, and Lifetalk Radio. All of these ministries have television content that is not only reaching the United States and Canada, but the whole earth. The speakers for these ministries are holding evangelistic meetings in North America and around the world with many baptisms and many more lives touched by the wonderful messages of hope for these last days.

Today's offering is for these media ministries to continue the gospel commission to preach the gospel to every inhabitant of this planet. In many cities, is hard to knock on doors and share a piece of literature because people live in apartment buildings, condominiums and gated communities. But people are coming to Christ because of TV.

We invite you to be generous in your offering and support these ministries who are using television and the internet to go inside homes to preach the Advent message.

Did you know that research has shown that people who write down what they are grateful for, even once a week, were likely to be "more optimistic and felt better about their lives." A while ago, I added the practice of writing down what I am grateful for in my daily prayer journal. My family, my work, and my faith often make the list. Some days, I am most grateful for an encouraging lunch with my colleague. Weekly, the realization that it is Sabbath and I get to rest in Jesus really overfills my heart's "gratitude cup." In the words of the Psalmist, "I will praise You, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will tell of all Your marvelous works" (Psalm 9:1, NKJV).

What are you grateful for today? When you look back over your past week, is there a moment or interaction that you can thank God for? I encourage you to take a moment to thank God for whatever is filling your heart with gratitude at this moment.

At this moment, I am very grateful for the word of God; specifically, Hebrews chapter 11, sometimes referred to as "The Faith Chapter." As we all face different challenges in different seasons of our lives, it is incredibly refreshing to be reminded of God's faithfulness. Today, as we return our offering, let us return to God our tithes and offerings from a heart overflowing with gratitude.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES – CHURCH AND SCHOOL CAPITAL

Conversion isn't just for people. Sometimes it is for church buildings as well. For years, the Pikeville, TN, Seventh-day Adventist Church family met in a wooden building that didn't look like a church, in fact, it didn't start out as a church. It was a brothel originally, sometimes diplomatically called a boarding house. Many years later, the Adventist Church acquired this building and held worship services on the ground floor, while the upper floor served as a school. Eventually, the school was not allowed to meet up stairs as it was deemed a fire hazard, so a concrete block structure was built next door for the school. A few years ago, the school was not longer operating so the church family moved into the school building for worship and decided to tear down the older wooden structure that had been converted from a brothel to a house of worship. Inspecting the building before it was demolished, they discovered termites had damaged so much of the building, it was a wonder it had still been standing. Today, the Pikeville church is building a new worship facility right next to the former school connected together to the school building. Thanks to you, a portion of their cost comes from your offering today.

By ourselves, none of us could probably provide the means to be able to build this new lighthouse for the Adventist message. But together, we can. Together you and I through our gifts to the Georgia-Cumberland Church Ministries Offering* today, are helping new church buildings take shape.

*Each Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering benefits the following ministries:

50% Evangelism

20% Church and School Capital Building assistance

10% Cohutta Capital Building assistance

10% Georgia-Cumberland Academy

5% Atlanta Adventist Academy

When Joshua began leading the Israelites, there was likely a lot of uncertainty around how things would go. Moses had spent years leading the children of God through the wilderness and through many miraculous events! In Joshua 1, we can see that God calls Joshua to be both "strong and courageous" (Joshua 1:6, NIV) in a transition of leadership that surely may have felt overwhelming to Joshua at times.

And yet, God walked with Joshua through the ups and the downs of his journey as a leader. Joshua proved to be a faithful steward of what God gave him. God gave him the task of leadership, and Joshua leaned on God to see that through. The beautiful thing about Joshua's story is that God did not just give Joshua an enormous task – God took it upon Himself to provide Joshua with the wisdom to be the leader that Israel needed at that moment.

We too have been given the privilege of supporting the work of God at a local level. Our offering today will go to support our local church budget. The ministries of the local church are the heartbeat of the gospel spreading in our community. As we collect our offering today, consider how you can best steward all of the resources that God has blessed you with!

Adventist World Radio

(Note to the offering reader: Download the AWR 2024 video and the latest offering resources at awr.org/offering.)

Adventist World Radio (AWR) uses many forms of technology to reach people where they are, in their local dialect. From AWR's shortwave towers in Guam to 1,800 radio stations around the world, these messages are broadcasting in more than 130 languages every day. And for those who aren't in range of a radio station, AWR's YouTube videos and ministry app are ministering to millions.

In addition, solar-powered Godpods are reaching everyone from prisoners to shepherds! And the ministry's semi-truck in Ukraine is both meeting needs in the community and broadcasting Bible-based messages of hope wherever it goes.

Recently, the ministry tried something unique in Ghana. After renting airtime on 10 radio stations near the Sahara Desert, AWR started sharing the good news of the gospel over marketplace loudspeakers in 12 cities. AWR also paired this with a "Question of the Day," where callers were invited to receive a prize (such as a copy of the book The Great Controversy) by answering a question about the prior day's broadcast.

The results have already been astounding. In the last six months, more than 10,000 people have been baptized, with approximately 5,000 from the market loudspeakers alone. God predicted that one day we would be "utterly amazed" (Habakkuk 1:5, NIV) at what He would do—and we are!

Thank you for your support of Adventist World Radio.

The beach is one of my favorite places. My family lives close to the beach, and it is a wonderful place to come to, especially when the weather is warm. My husband and I have taken many walks along the water and prayed for God to guide the next steps of our lives.

Looking at the water, we can all be reminded of God's sovereignty. That's a big, theological word that simply means that God reigns above everything. God is in control. When the disciples, in the book of Mark, were caught in a storm, they cried out to Jesus for His help. Jesus was fast asleep, but they woke Him up and He calmed the storm that threatened their lives. Their response was, "...[they] said to one another, 'Who can this be, that even the wind and the sea obey Him!'"(Mark 4:41 NKJV).

Today, we can rest in knowing that our God is able to calm all of the storms in our lives. Even deeper than that, God is able to give us a sense of peace, even when the world around us feels like it is in chaos. We are blessed to be able to gather as believers and encourage each other with our testimonies of how God has carried us through the storms of our lives. As we return our tithe and offering today, let our hearts give from a place of gratitude for our "storm-calming" God.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING -EVANGELISM

Because the Revision Seventh-day Adventist Church in Atlanta meets in a rented location, they have 3 security officers hired to be on premises while they are meeting. Since she is there in person for the services as part of her job, one of these security guards hears our message. In fact, even when she is not there for her job she watches the church online. One day during the service, when an appeal was given for a baptism to be conducted in a few weeks, this security guard came forward in response to the appeal. Joyfully she came for the baptism that Sabbath, with all of her family and friends to support her and witness her baptism. She loved the studies that were part of her baptismal discipleship development and said that, "It is creating a new image of who God is, in my mind. I am now seeing God as a loving heavenly Father, instead of a dictator. I am now seeing the 10 commandments as how God loves us and wants us to love others." Now she has gone from becoming a disciple to making disciples by inviting others.

Evangelism. It is one of several ministries that benefit from your Georgia-Cumberland Ministries offering* which is being received today. What a joy to learn of those who are coming to see a new image of who God is – a loving Heavenly Father. By ourselves, none of us could reach each of these people.

But together, we can! Your offering today helps to reach even more in our Conference with the message of a soon coming Savior.

I remember it like it was yesterday. I got a call from a close friend saying that they had gotten an incredible job in an incredible city that would be their dream come true. I celebrated with my friend, while also feeling the sting of pain from my own disappointment from recently being rejected from yet another job for which I was qualified, yet was not found worthy to possess.

Disappointment and rejection can be hard things to deal with. One thing that God taught me and my family during that season of our lives was that though it may not be "my turn" for the blessing of my dream job, it is always "my turn" to serve God and those around me by doing my best, no matter what position I'm in.

One thing that has blessed me and many others during tough times is the support local churches offer to those who are struggling just to make it. I've been in small group Bible study where other members prayed for me and supported me in many ways, both with physical needs and spiritual. Today's offering will go to support our local church budget, which supports ministries that are the heartbeat of our church all week long, not just on Sabbath. "The Lord Jesus himself said: 'It is more blessed to give than to receive'" (Acts 20:35, NIV).

By Heather Thompson Day

Years ago, a mentor of mine encouraged me to take my relationship with God as seriously as I take my career. She saw me as a very driven person, but she instructed me to make sure I connected with God at the beginning of every day. That began my habit of waking up before the sun rises, around 5 am, to spend quiet time reading God's word and reflecting on it through prayer.

A little bit ago, my husband and I noticed our daughter taking out her Bible in the morning before getting ready for school. She found a corner in our living room to pray. When my husband asked her why she was up so early, she said, "Mommy gets up early to speak to Jesus, and I want to be like Mommy." I was so struck by my daughter! It was and is my desire that my daughter develops a deep personal connection with Jesus. I simply wasn't aware of just how much my silent witness of waking up early impressed on her.

Whether this is your first time at church, or your family built this church, if you look around, it's likely that you will see someone whose spiritual journey with God you can learn from. Today's offering goes to our local church budget. In order to keep our church ministries functioning, we depend on the generosity of members returning that faithful offering to support our local church.

Smells can bring a flood of memories to your brain. A special family recipe can spark a whole host of thoughts and emotions as it passes through your home if someone is making a meal. There are recipes that my mother and my grandmother have made, that still brings me joy when we get together and they are cooked for the family.

One thing I am still mastering is the art of making good bread. I love the smell of fresh-baked, homemade bread, and it is always something that I look forward to making. What has brought even more joy is involving my children in the baking process, when it is possible.

Baking and cooking are skills that can be taught and learned. Similarly, our church has a rich heritage of passing along the lessons we know in order to build up the next generation. The Bible encourages teaching and sharing what we know! "And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable people who will also be qualified to teach others" (2 Timothy 2:2, NIV). Ministries such as Sabbath School classes help us connect and better know the "recipe" for a better life in Christ, and how to practically live out our Christianity outside of these church walls. Today's offering is for our local church budget, which supports ministries such as Sabbath school.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING - COHUTTA SPRINGS CAMP

Listen to the story of one of your young adults in our Conference. "Cohutta Springs Youth Camp was the best decision of my life. Before I worked at Cohutta Springs Camp I was lost. I had no idea where I was going in life. I felt like I was in an endless loop of anger, anxiety and sadness. I was at a job that I strongly disliked and I felt like I was completely alone.

"After a particularly long hard day I got to my car and had one of the worst anxiety attacks of my life. The only thing I could think of doing was to pray. I hadn't prayed in a long time but I felt the need to. The moment I said "amen," I received a text message encouraging me to come back and work at Cohutta Springs Summer Camp as a counselor. I knew it was God and only God working for me.

"The moment I drove on the Cohutta Springs Camp property I felt like I was at home and I instantly felt the presence of Christ. Then when I was talking to one of my campers who was struggling with wanting to fully commit to Christ, she reminded me so much of myself and my childhood. How even when I felt so alone, that God was there and never left my side. All I had to do was let him in and allow him to lead my life the way he intended. Talking with my camper was when I knew I needed to be baptized myself. It is this spiritual ministry every year that makes Cohutta Springs summer camp not only the best influence for the campers but for the staff as well."

A portion of your gift to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* will support Cohutta Springs summer camp ministry. As an individual church member, most of us could not operate an Adventist summer camp ministry. But together, we can. Together all of us can support Cohutta Springs summer camp and through our summer camp ministry, 1,300 boys and girls can be led to dedicate their life to Jesus during a summer week of intentional ministry wrapped in Christian fun.

"Ding!" My phone went off again in my pocket. It was just one of those busy days I was having as a college professor, but with deadlines looming, and students waiting to be taught, I did not really want to deal with my phone notifications at the moment. Can you relate to that feeling? I have found that technology can often be a wonderful blessing, as it allows me to connect meaningfully with my family members who live all over the world. At the same time, it can sometimes disconnect me from the life that is happening right before my eyes.

One thing I decided to do years ago was to take a weekly Sabbath, on the Sabbath, from my devices, as often as I can. That way, when I gather in worship with my family, my fellow believers, and my students, I can be fully in tune with what is going on.

"And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another—and all the more as you see the Day approaching" (Hebrews 10:24-25, NIV). Today's offering is for the local church budget. This will help provide the resources necessary to allow us to continue to meet together and worship as one!

Disaster & Famine Relief

As we approach Christ's return, the Bible tells us that crisis events will increase around the world. Emergency Management officials, who have tracked disasters for over 50 years confirm that tornadoes are touching down with greater impact, hurricanes are moving at greater speeds and mass shootings continue to affect our communities on a regular basis.

The Seventh-day Adventist Church serves those affected by these types of devastating events. Adventist Community Services (ACS) responds throughout the North American Division. Volunteers open collection centers to support those whose homes have been destroyed, support communities that have been struck by senseless shootings with Emotional Spiritual Care teams, and deliver supplies to areas of greatest need in the aftermath of a disaster.

Your offering this Sabbath will ensure ACS is able to prepare, respond, and work in recovery efforts that take place within the North American Division, which includes the United States, Canada, Bermuda, Guam, and Micronesia. While ACS is responsible for these areas, the Seventh-day Adventist Church has not forgotten the rest of the world and has another humanitarian organization that responds to events outside of the North American Division called ADRA (Adventist Development and Relief Association).

Please give this Sabbath to the disaster and famine relief offering, where your donation will support both ACS and ADRA. We look forward to continuing our work to serve communities in Christ's name.

A passionate woman stood on our church platform and shared how our church was reaching our local community by offering free English classes to people in our community who desired to learn how to speak English. What struck me most was the deep bonds she and the team from our church had developed with the people who were coming once a week to our community room to learn.

What was even more beautiful was that our church had partnered with a local business that donated household goods, and as a church, we were meeting some of the physical needs of those who were coming to these classes as well! One couple had been praying for a reclining couch to meet the need of a sick family member who needed to sit and sleep in a reclined position. The woman sharing the testimony told our church that just then she called the family to offer them one that had just been given to the church by this local business! It's not a coincidence – I saw God moving through the faithfulness of those dedicating their time and energy to run this ministry.

When you give to our local church budget, which is what today's offering is for, you give to meet needs both for our church to function, as well as for us to be a blessing to the community around us.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING – EVANGELISM

Good things often happen around a table. Think of family meals. Thanksgiving Dinners. Birthday celebrations. Homecomings. Fellowship meals at church.

And, evangelism. What?! Evangelism? Yes, evangelism is happening around the tables in the Crossville, TN Seventh-day Adventist Church fellowship hall.

Last September and October, the Crossville, TN, Church gathered around tables for a different kind of meal, a Biblical and evangelism meal. Pastor Mario Reategui conducted an evangelistic series for just 2 weeks. 95 attended opening night at the Crossville Fellowship building with 40 of those being community guests. After a short evangelistic presentation from the front, guests were then engaged in a conversation about the Biblical topic by a facilitator at each table who also had a Bible lesson related to the topic. The whole church had worked diligently to prepare, distributing Great Controversy books, with a "save the date" card for the evangelistic series. Also, there were radio ads, newspaper ads, social media ads and 12,000 post cards mailed to the Crossville Community. The whole church pitched in and worked diligently, combining efforts between the members and the church leaders. Pastor Reategui is so excited by the turnout and by the spirit in the Crossville, TN, church. "This is the best church I have ever pastored," he declares.

This church is excited to be about the mission of Jesus to share the joy of Christ's soon return and the power of His transforming grace. And they are grateful for the support from all of us, as they reach out in evangelism.

Evangelism. It is one of several ministries that benefits from your Georgia-Cumberland Ministries offering* which is being received today. By ourselves, none of us could reach each of the precious souls across Georgia and Eastern Tennessee. But together, we can! Your offering today helps to reach even more in our Conference with the message of a soon coming Savior.

There is something to appreciate about every season of the year. The coolness of fall is a symbol that soon the beautiful colors of falling leaves will cover the ground. The warmth of summer brings nice weather to enjoy being outside. Even the cool, stillness of winter reminds us that rest is necessary. The freshness of the rain in the spring reminds us that rain and storms can be the catalyst for new things. Different seasons bring different things into our lives.

"See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland" (Isaiah 43:19, NIV). As we gather from Sabbath to Sabbath, God longs to do new things in our hearts. Our church is moving forward, and we want to be receptive to how God is doing a new thing among us. Regardless of the season, and regardless of the weather outside, the word of God should be planted in our hearts. By coming together, we can encourage one another throughout the various seasons we all face in our lives. Today's offering is for our local church budget. Our church has ministries and plans, and our support helps us continue to serve our members and community in new ways.

Women's Ministries Offering

All around the North American Division women find creative ways to serve their communities. Today's annual Women's Ministries offering helps provide opportunities for more women to become involved, and out of these opportunities come stories of those whose lives have been changed by your generosity.

These include the group of Adventist women who are helping provide for the personal needs of teen girls living in a shelter. Stories like the woman who, from her own personal experience, understands the challenges facing a single mother, and with some friends started a ministry to provide single moms and their children with a safe place to live, life skills training, and after-school tutoring. Stories of a group of women who decided to take seriously the mentoring words of Titus 2, teaching younger women in their church and women in their community financial skills, how to preserve food, how to cope with grief, and more, and now some of those women are in Bible studies!

These funds also help provide leadership training for women. Additionally, a portion of our Women's Ministries offering helps to supplement the scholarship fund from the proceeds of the Women's Ministries Devotional book, continuing the legacy of faith and service to future generations.

As you give, please pray for more opportunities for women in our local church and beyond to live out Hebrews 13:16 (NIV) "Do not neglect to do good and to share with others..."

"After this I looked, and there before me was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, tribe, people and language, standing before the throne and before the Lamb. They were wearing white robes and were holding palm branches in their hands." (Revelations 7:9 NIV). As I look around my college classroom, I'm always amazed at the rainbow of faces that I see. The gospel is beautiful because our great hope is that one day, we will all be united in heaven, and we will get to worship God for eternity.

In the meantime, we must exist in this fallen world. As I discuss with my students what is happening in the world today, we wrestle with our place as Christians and as a church body. God has called us to be His hands and feet, and this generation of college students has a strong desire to see impactful outreach within our local church ministries that they can connect with to help our community. In one such example of ministry, one student said that their church back home would support mothers in need with free diapers if they didn't have money. The multitude described in the book of Revelation will be composed of many people who have allowed Christ to live through them and bless others.

Today's offering is being collected to support the local church budget. Our church is able to serve as a house of worship for all people because of your generous gifts, so thank you!

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING – ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Outdoor school approaches are gaining in popularity across the United States, and your elementary schools in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference have been on the cutting edge of this approach to a nature-based emphasis within the academic day.

One parent at the Bowman Hills Seventh-day Adventist School in Cleveland, TN, says, "When we heard about the outdoor program, it pushed us over the edge to choose the Bowman Hills Seventh-day Adventist School. Our son just loves the outdoor time. He comes home and tells us about what he discovered, the things he found in the creek, and the teamwork it took to move logs across the creek."

Another parent shared that they believe the Adventist outdoor school approach, "renews the mind of our kids. Kids have energy and they need to use that energy and explore some. We love hearing our kids come back and talk about nature and tell us what they have learned of Christ. They are getting a great education."

Thanks to you, Adventist schools here in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference are providing great hands-on learning and exploration experiences that wouldn't happen in a typical classroom.

By ourselves most of us could not operate and fund a Christian elementary school for our thousands of students. But together, we can! Together, through your offerings to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* today, we provide schools that lead young people into lives of service for Christ.

I grew up in a small town where our county fair and ice cream socials at the local grocery store gathered us each summer. In some ways, I believe that heaven is really like a small town. When I go to our local diner with my husband for breakfast, the server knows my name because we are there so frequently and have been for years.

Similarly, my most treasured memories of church throughout my life are when the people I go to church with move from acquaintances to what I would consider family. Years ago, my husband was pastoring a smaller congregation, and the people who lead the musical worship part of the service became some of the closest people to us. In that season, we were far away from the small town I had grown up in and our families, and yet these people became our family.

As we gather from week to week, we have a lot that goes into allowing us to meet to create those connections. Our leaders over the church and ministries prayerfully work together so that the unity God desires can be felt in our church family. Today's offering is for the local church budget. Please consider how different ministries in our church have impacted your life, and give freely as you are impressed!

Fireworks brilliantly light up the darkest sky when they are set off. My family and I go to see firework displays in the summer time, and it is a truly exciting activity for my children. My favorite kind of fireworks are when we are able to see them over water by our local beach. That way, they are not only brilliant in the sky, but they are also brilliantly displayed in the reflection in the water.

The word of God tells us, "You are the light of the world. A town built on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven" (Matthew 5:14-16, NIV). One bright light we have as Christians is our ability to pray for one another. When we pray for others and let them know they are being prayed for, it can be a bright light in someone's day. I have seen prayer change the trajectory of someone's life.

Would you partner with our church being a "town build on a hill" both in your prayers and your giving? Today's offering goes to the local church budget. Please prayerfully consider what you are able to give to help our church.

World Budget

When the Seventh-day Adventist Church was organized in 1863, it had only 3,500 members. Now there are over 21 million Adventist members worldwide. Thanks to your generous mission offerings, prayers, and personal involvement, the Seventh-day Adventist Church shares the love of Jesus in more than 200 countries around the world with 153,253 congregations meeting every Sabbath, 7,792 schools, and over 700 health care institutions.³ All of this has been made possible due to the "Revolutionary Generosity" of our faithful members.

Revelation 18:1-2 says, "After these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great authority, and the earth was illuminated with his glory. And he cried mightily with a loud voice, saying, 'Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen'..." (NKJV).

The Adventist church has a special message to wake up the world and invite people to leave Babylon and joint the "Remnant Church" who keep the commandments and have the testimony of Jesus.

Thank you for funding the mission to preach the three angels' messages. Today's offering is for the World Budget. As you give your offering today, remember to pray for God's Spirit to touch lives so people can prepare for Jesus' soon return.

³ Who are Seventh-day Adventists? | North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists (nadadventist.org)

One day several years ago, while I was teaching one of my college communications courses, a student of mine entered the classroom after the lesson had already begun. She looked visibly tired and in bad shape, and I decided to not make a big deal about her coming in late. Later, after class, the student came to my office to explain their tardiness. "I got the news that my parent died this morning, and I just didn't know where to go." My heart sank, but I also felt a spark of hope at that moment. I grieved with my student for the great loss the family was experiencing. I also praised God that while this student was away from her home, she saw our classroom as a safe space for her to find refuge.

The church can be that place for many people as well. When we walk in each Sabbath we are not always aware of the burdens that those around us are carrying into church. A church is more than a building – a church is us, the people, who lean on one another to help create that safe space for others to share their burdens. The Bible instructs us to, "Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2, NIV). Today's offering is for our local church budget.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING – CHURCH AND SCHOOL CAPITAL

In 2013, the small Summerville Seventh-day Adventist Church in northwest Georgia faced a critical juncture. The loss of several prominent church leaders left the congregation teetering on the brink of survival. But a transformation took place through the power of prayer. In a few years the church grew so much that there was barely enough room to sit and no place to park. In 2017, they entered into a rental arrangement with the local Presbyterian church. While this move allowed them to continue their mission, it came with limitations, including restricted hours and days of the week. Visitors often found it challenging to locate the church, and their ability to conduct effective outreach programs was hindered by their limited visibility within the community and insufficient space for ministry activities. The church collectively realized the necessity of having their own dedicated building. Such a facility would serve as both a place of worship and a mission center, enabling them to better serve and engage with their community. In the Fall of 2023, working with a Maranatha team of volunteers, a new church building was erected on an attractive piece of land funded by a donor. Thanks to the sacrifice of the members and your gifts through the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries offering, the Summerville church is able to expand their ministry for the Adventist hope.

By ourselves, none of us could probably provide the means to be able to build this new lighthouse for the Adventist message. But together, we can. Together you and I through our gifts to the Georgia-Cumberland Church Ministries Offering* today, are helping new church buildings take shape.

Several of my friends are educators in our Adventist school system. Because I teach on the college level, I am often intrigued by the stories that my friends who teach elementary school share with me. Children can often say very silly though heartfelt comments. For example, one student, though they seemed to enjoy being at school, shared this thought one day, "I feel like I've been in school forever! When will it end?" Another child on another day asked, "Does God like to eat chocolate like I do?" Young children may often share their unfiltered thoughts with anyone willing to listen. If you spend any amount of time with children, you may realize that they tend to be curious about God and who He is.

God's word tells us, "Start children off on the way they should go, and even when they are old they will not turn from it" (Proverbs 22:6, NIV). Children's Sabbath School is a great place for children to come and learn and explore those emerging questions about God, what He is like, and His love for all of us. Today's offering is for our local church budget. Sabbath School is a wonderful time of the week that I'm sure many children look forward to. Prayerfully consider giving to our local church budget today, for in doing so you will be investing in our youngest members.

Christian Record Services for the Blind

Jeannie has attended National Camps for Blind Children for over 40 years. One of her favorite things is the music, especially when she gets to play her accordion and keyboard.

"Many people don't know how great camps are," says Jeannie. "I want them all to know what a great experience it is." More important than the music, the games, and the new friends, is how her experience at camp draws her closer to Jesus. Jeannie recently rededicated her life to Jesus by being rebaptized.

I love that we can share the mercy and grace of Jesus Christ with people who are blind or experiencing vision loss, serving them together through Christian Record Services, a ministry of compassion of the Seventh-day Adventist Church since 1899, serving nearly 18,000 members throughout the United States and in countries around the world.

Christian Record Services offers an array of services and programs, including Bible study lessons, books, magazines, and Bibles in audio, braille, and large print from a library of more than 2,000 titles. Members also can deepen social, educational, and spiritual connections through PhoneFaith, scholarships for higher education, and National Camps for Blind Children.

These services and programs are free of charge to people who are legally blind. Your offerings will help further the ministry's mission to empower people who are blind to engage their communities and embrace the Blessed Hope.

I once met a student who entered college with such a low gradepoint average from high school, that it's amazing he was even admitted to college. He went on to eventually graduate from college with high honors and a perfect grade point average. The only difference for this student between high school and college was that now, for the first time in years, he had a bed. The student had been unhoused in high school, and had bounced around from location to location. The instability had wrecked his ability to focus on his academics as his stomach grumbled in class and he was fighting to stay awake.

Within the last couple of years, I have been blown away by how much my local church has gone above and beyond to support people who have been impacted by the global pandemic. Our church's inneed fund has helped people with everything from buying groceries to paying their rent when they lost their job due to the pandemic. And what was amazing was that those who were able to gave even more, knowing that there were many in need. This sounds a lot like the church in the book of Acts. Today's offering is for our local church budget. Our church can have the ability to meet the needs of those in and outside of our church through outreach. Consider giving a generous offering today to meet the needs of our local church.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING -ATLANTA ADVENTIST ACADEMY

Atlanta Adventist Academy started in 1979 and is now at their Duluth campus using interactive videoconference technology to provide Adventist education at 3 Atlanta metro sites and 8 partner high schools throughout the region.

AAA has established a reputation of using technology effectively—while maintaining a student-friendly atmosphere that is typical of Seventh-day Adventist academies. Students enjoy activities such as spiritual retreats, fall parties, banquets, varsity sports, music, drama, mission trips, field trips, and electives throughout the year.

Currently, 15 dual-credit classes are offered to our qualifying academy students. It is possible for a student to graduate from AAA with up to 37 hours of college credit.

The spiritual atmosphere of AAA is the most important part of the education we have to offer. Students are provided numerous opportunities to accept Jesus Christ as their Savior through class worships, chapels, retreats, prayer with teachers, AAA Sabbaths and more.

Our mission statement sums it up: "We honor God by preparing young people for a life of excellence and service in this world and in the world to come."

By ourselves most of us could not operate and fund a Christian High School for our students across Atlanta and the many partner school through video technology. But together, we can! Together, through our offerings to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* today, you can provide schools that lead young people to lives of service for Christ.

"And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and the fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers. And awe came upon every soul, and many wonders and signs were being done through the apostles. And all who believed were together and had all things in common. And they were selling their possessions and belongings and distributing the proceeds to all, as any had need" (Acts 2:42-45, ESV).

In one of my first years as a professor, I had a student who clearly did not like me. Every day she came to class with a negative attitude. One day, as I was leaving, I felt the Holy Spirit impress me to give her money. I thought it was an odd thought, so I brushed it away. Later that week, I felt God saying once again to give her money, but now He had doubled the amount.

As we left the classroom, I asked her to stay, and I mumbled through an explanation about why I was giving her money. I watched as she burst into tears and explained that she had had no idea how she was going to get diapers for her baby.

That story is a reminder of our call as Christians, to give. We never know the far-reaching impact of our financial gifts. Today's offering is for our local church budget. Let's partner with our church to expand our ability to help those around us in need.

Sometimes, when I am given a task to do, it can be hard for me to keep focused on it. When writing a book, sometimes I get what's called "writer's block," when the words just don't come as easily to me. When I'm writing an article or a message to share, it can be hard too. One thing that helps me immensely is leaning into my "team" of family and friends. My husband is an excellent encourager and he provides me with the support and space to complete the job. My friends hold me accountable by asking how different projects are going.

Similarly, our church functions only because of many people working together as a team to keep our ministries running. Several volunteers help with things such as Sabbath School, ministry meetings, and leading out prayer meetings, just to name a few things. The Bible tells us, "Thus the saying 'One sows and another reaps' is true" (John 4:37. NIV). Each person serves a different, yet important, role to help the church function.

Today's offering will go to support our local church budget. There are many ways to support what our church does, and giving financially is just one. Pray and consider how God can use you to continue to move forward in the mission of our church.

World Budget (Emphasis: Radio Ministries)

If you've been feeling like the radio is antiquated and you are the only one who still listens to it, think again! Radio is actually alive and doing well. It turns out, more than 3 billion people in this planet tune in every week to listen to the radio!⁴ The Adventist Church supports radio ministries so that our Advent message will enter even the most remote areas of our world.

Revelation 14:15 says, "And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to Him who sat on the cloud, 'Thrust in Your sickle and reap, for the time has come for You to reap, for the harvest of the earth is ripe'."

Through radio ministries the Adventist Church is reaching every country on this planet and making sure that the earth is ripe for the harvest. We invite you today to partner with God and be part of the final harvest.

We live in an age where some people may desire to be an "influencer." An "influencer" is defined as "one who exerts influence: a person who inspires or guides the actions of others." I can recognize that I have been influenced to buy or desire things. Years ago in high school, there was a certain brand of shoes that all of the best runners wore, so I bought that brand of shoes. We all have the capacity to be influenced.

A different way to look at the benefit of being an "influencer" is to ask, how can I influence the world around me for God? Jesus says in John 13:35, "By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another" (NIV). Our love can be shown in many different ways. It can be displayed in asking another church member how they are doing, and offering to help with anything they are struggling with if you are able to. Love can be shown in kind words and serving one another in ministry. Today's offering is being collected for our local church budget. As you consider how you can love and influence the world around you, also consider your giving as an extension of that.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING -EVANGELISM

Discouragement had set in as the Questview Adventist church plant felt stuck. After 17 years of being a church plant, and working hard for the Lord, they felt like they were treading water, as they were not growing, even though they baptized new members, but those members would move away. By God's leading Questview decided to merge with another church plant in the Lawrenceville area, New Fellowship. Convinced that God could do more through them together, they decided to work together to reach their part of Gwinnett County.

Recently a retired pastor, Elder Dennis Ross joined with them and raised a fervor for the Lord's work. In the Fall of 2023, they conducted an evangelistic series and baptized 10. Because of their growth, they will be organized as a church in January of 2024.

Dr. Neil Reid Ministerial Director for the Georgia-Cumberland Conference Central Region says, "Evangelism is adding new life to the Lawrenceville church. The current Adventist members were holding on for many years, but now they are reaching new people, who in turn will reach more new people. There is a thrilling air of excitement of what God is doing."

Your offering for Evangelism through the GCC Ministries offering* is just one way you are being used by God to grow the kingdom of God in the GCC.

By ourselves, none of us could reach all of those living in Gwinnett County, Georgia, and grow new churches. But together, we can! Your offering* today helps to reach even more in our Conference with the message of a soon coming Savior.

I have prayed and walked for miles and miles in my tennis shoes. One semester, I walked around the campus of our university with students and prayed over the people in our campus community. We walked around the entire property, making sure to both share words, and some quiet time of personal prayer, as we lifted up our campus. We wanted to see the Holy Spirit move in a mighty way and transform lives, and we had the audacity to believe that He would do it. We held close to our hearts verses like, "If you believe, you will receive whatever you ask for in prayer" (Matthew 21:22, NIV). As I watched, I saw God transform my life and the lives of my students through prayer that year, and ever since then.

The beautiful thing about prayer is that we can do it at any time, anywhere, and it's something that we are able to share with one another. Today's offering is for our local church budget. Our church serves as a place we can come together and share in our joys and woes. We can listen and learn from one another, and grow together in Christ. We hope to keep this light on in the church for many years to come, and that is made possible by your generous gifts.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION OFFERING -THE MISSION FIELD CAME TO US

In Atlanta we have many Myanmar refugees (former country of Burma) that have escaped much persecution and hardship. Some are faithful Seventh-day Adventist members trying to establish themselves.

Their children desperately wanted an Adventist education. Several years ago, the Duluth Seventh-day Adventist Church's Home and School Leader was moved by the Holy Spirit to act and the next year many refugee children were attending our school, continuing to this day. One of those elementary students worked hard in school, then attended college and returned to Myanmar for several years to serve as a missionary to her own people as an English teacher. Another refugee student at Atlanta Adventist Academy graduated with honors, went on to attend Southern Adventist University and is now in dental school in Augusta, Georgia, the first Myanmar refugee from that Atlanta community to become a dentist.

Sometimes, the mission field comes to us, we don't have to go to a foreign country.

It is humbling and exciting to see how God has led these many years and to see the outcome of our Seventh-day Adventist schools at work. Thank you for your prayers as our teachers, financial backers, brothers and sisters in Christ, and parents encourage young people to accept Jesus and live a life that fulfills God's plans for them.

Across Georgia and Tennessee, our Adventist Church ministers to 2,034 elementary students, and 774 high school students at our 37 Adventist school campuses.

By ourselves most of us could not operate and fund a Christian elementary school for our thousands of students. But together, we can! Together, through our offerings to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* today, we provide schools that lead young people to lives of service for Christ.

Isaiah 40:31 says, "but those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint" (NIV). Have you ever been weary? Have you ever felt like throwing in the towel? You're not alone. It's normal to get tired. Some days I wake up and consider all of the different "hats" I wear – parent, teacher, friend, sister, daughter, speaker, author – and just thinking about all of them can make me tired. There may be a lot that is demanded of you, and that can be tough. In my mind, that's why Sabbath is that much more beautiful; it gives us time to reset and focus on where our hope comes from. Hoping in the Lord gives us the strength we need to keep on going, even when we feel like we are drowning in responsibilities.

Today's offering is being collected to support our local church budget. Our church serves under many different titles as well. To many, it is a house of prayer. To others, it is a place of learning in Sabbath School and during the divine worship service. Still, to others, it is a place of refuge. When you give to the local church budget, you give to support the mission and ministry of our local church, which touches many lives.

Your Bible Workers in our Conference are making friends for God and teaching our Adventist message. Here is a story told by one of our Bible Workers named Colleen. "Out of everyone I called persistently, one young woman decided to call me back because she recognized I had a New York phone number. She is a former New Yorker who relocated to Florida and then to Carrollton, GA, after having an Uber accident that caused her to lose her job and become partially disabled. Tanya became homeless and had to move to Carrollton to her only friend that she knew from 2nd grade. Upon moving she felt God's calling and moving upon her life to open a homeless shelter. We had a long conversation over the phone and I delivered the bible studies the next day. Sabbath April 15th, 2023. Tanya felt the urgency to be in church as this was the missing link. She does not drive as a result of the accident. I told her I would pick her up (totally out of character for me). If you knew me personally, I had a phobia of driving for years up until last year. So, for me to drive out of my way and pick up a complete stranger was what I reckon a divine movement or inspiration. Tanya came to church with me on April 22, 2023, after many decades of not being in church. She has been a non-practicing Catholic."

One with inspiration for the church has said, "Within the shadow of every church are precious souls waiting to be gathered in."

You are helping to gather souls, as you support our Bible Workers in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference through our evangelism offering today.

By ourselves, none of us could probably sponsor and support all of our Bible Workers across the Conference and follow up on the 20,000 names we have to reach. But together, we can! Your offering* today helps to reach even more in our Conference with the message of a soon coming Savior.

As a teacher, my favorite lessons are the ones that my students take and apply in their real life. I teach communication, and it is so important that students understand the power of their words. Proverbs 18:21 tells us that, "Death and life are in the power of the tongue..." (NIV) and helping my college students understand that and use their words for positive things is always so encouraging to see.

I once had a student who struggled to express herself. As the semester went on, and she had more opportunities and knowledge as to how to share more of herself in a positive way, her confidence increased and she was able to share more of what she was thinking. She learned how to speak life to others, and even to herself.

Look around the church today. Who have you taken time to "speak life" into? That is, who have you paused to encourage, say a kind word to, or pray for? Today's offering is for the local church budget. Please prayerfully consider giving to support the ministry and mission of our church, as we seek to be a place where life-giving words are shared regularly.

Annual Sacrifice for Global Mission

Global Mission is the frontline mission arm of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Through the use of wholistic ministry, Global Mission pioneers are bringing light to cities of the world, with a special focus on the 10/40 Window. Since Global Mission began three decades ago, we've reached many new people groups and entered new countries. "I Will Go" is the strategic plan of the Adventist church for 2020-2025.

There are missionaries working right now in places like Sri Lanka, Malawi, Indonesia, Cambodia, and veiled countries where preaching the gospel is against the law. There are many mission challenges, because in some places where there is no Adventist presence, it takes about two years of sharing the love of Jesus with non-Christians who live in these areas before they open their hearts to Christ.

Please give sacrificially to support these missionaries and pray for these missionaries and their families. If you feel called to be a missionary there are many opportunities to work in unreached people groups. Visit vividfaith.com to explore missionary opportunities.

We invite you to GO!

Go through prayer! Go through giving! Go through service!

One time a friend of mine came over to my house, and I wanted to bake a dessert for him. He had an allergy to one of the ingredients, so I hastily used a substitute that I was unsure of. If you have ever baked, you know that even changing one ingredient can change the taste, texture, and really the entire baked good if you're not careful. I learned, on that day, that this ingredient should not have been swapped out! Needless to say, tasting this dessert was not a pleasant experience.

Similarly, God's word gives us words of wisdom for us to follow, and Proverbs 1:5 says, "let the wise listen and add to their learning, and let the discerning get guidance" (NIV).

What wise, Biblical knowledge have you learned lately? Have you taken the time to share it with someone? If you have not, take some time today or this next week to pass it along. Today's offering is for the local church budget. Let's continue to turn our church into a place where we can come together and grow in wisdom and knowledge of God. The more we study and learn together, the better equipped we can be to meet the needs of those who are around us.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND MINISTRIES OFFERING – GEORGIA CUMBERLAND ACADEMY

Clancy Phillips attended public school from kindergarten through eighth grade, and she would have continued into high school if it were not for a staff member from Georgia-Cumberland Academy who visited her church one Sabbath. Clancy's parents were close friends with another church family whose children had attended GCA, and they highly recommended the school and said that Clancy should attend.

However, there were two hurdles to overcome. The first was that Clancy was not sure about attending a school that required uniforms and had stricter rules compared to what she was used to in public school. Secondly, they had to work out the finances. But after receiving financial assistance through the worthy student fund, Clancy decided to try GCA for one year.

Now as a senior she cannot imagine having spent her high school years anywhere else. She is a Resident Assistant in the dorm and a leader in the Magnify Worship program. She is quick to take younger students under her wing and befriend them as they get settled at GCA. Clancy loves the spiritual atmosphere at GCA and the positivity of her classmates. "There's no telling where I'd be if I had stayed in public school with my middle school friends. I know their negative influence would've held me back. My friends at GCA have helped me grow closer to God because He is a part of every aspect of life at GCA."

Thanks to your support, Clancy and others like her have an opportunity to grow in their walk with God by attending Georgia-Cumberland Academy.

By ourselves, no one of us could build, operate and staff an academy for 300 students. But together, we can! Together we can provide a place where students can learn the lessons necessary to take their place in society, and to be spiritual leaders for Christ in this generation. Your gift today to the Georgia-Cumberland Ministries Offering* will help to continue this vital educational ministry and make it possible for students to attend Georgia-Cumberland Academy.

YOUR SUMMER MINISTRY TO CHILDREN – COHUTTA SPRINGS CAMP

You had a part in his baptism. Late in November 2023, Jake Linderman publicly expressed his faith in the saving work of Christ by baptism in the Hamilton Community Seventh-day Adventist Church. As he gave his testimony, he shared that it was while attending the 2023 summer camp at Cohutta Springs Camp that he was led to give his life to God and decide to be baptized. The spiritual influence of his counselor and the spiritual atmosphere of your summer camp led him on a deeper journey with Christ.

You joined a grandmother in ministry. She called in to the Conference to express how impressed she was with the ministry of your summer camp and the influence it had on her grandson. Her grandson and family are not Seventh-day Adventists, in fact, the grandson had not expressed any interest in spiritual matters or attending an Adventist school. After his time at Cohutta Springs Camp this past summer, her grandson said, "You know, I'm thinking to attending Southern Adventist University." And he chose to get baptized. This grandmother is so thankful for the ministry that you do for young people, when you support Cohutta Springs Camp.

A mother called in just to say how much she appreciated her daughter's counselor at your camp, Cohutta Springs Camp. The spiritual worships at camp and the godly influence and example of her daughter's counselor made quite a lasting impact on her daughter as she came home.

As an individual church member, most of us could not operate an Adventist summer camp ministry. But together, you and I can. Together all of us can support Cohutta Springs summer camp and through your summer camp ministry, over 1,300 boys and girls can be led to dedicate their life to Jesus during a summer week of intentional ministry wrapped in Christian fun.

Recently a friend of mine had major surgery on her jaw, which would prevent her from eating normal food. She lived far away from me, so I encouraged her in her recovery with texts and my prayers. When she recovered enough to be able to talk, she shared with me how well her local church had cared for her. From the moment she went into surgery, to the days that followed, they provided her with rides and round-the-clock care. She lived alone at the time, and she had been quite concerned about the logistics, but her local church family had acted as her own family would have, making sure she had everything she needed. They even went as far as providing her with a gift card to purchase smoothie drinks for the weeks that followed, until she could go back to eating solid food.

When I think of what it means to be a church family, my friend's recovery from surgery comes to mind. Not everyone is blessed to live in a loving family with others in their household. When the church steps in to provide that necessary comfort and care, our faith takes on a whole new meaning! Today's offering is for our local church budget. As you give today, give with an open heart, and consider all the ways our own church is touching lives.

Adventist Community Services

People come in all shapes and sizes, and so do their needs. For over 50 years ACS (Adventist Community Services) has offered diverse services tailored to fit the needs of the community. Often this is in the form of tangible goods and services (food, clothing, shelter, and showers) and sometimes emotional support is needed.

Portland ACS Director, Laura, was in a meeting when she heard a woman wailing outside her door. She excused herself to check on the situation, but found another staff member already sitting quietly with the grieving woman. The center's chaplain was called, who was able to spend more time listening and offering comfort. Most encouraging to Laura was a remark the woman made later, "I was overwhelmed and knew this would be a safe place to come."

Whether giving food and cooking gear, dental care, clothing, after school tutoring, or English language skills, hope and encouragement is the most valuable item found in ACS ministries.

Ellen White shared, "The Savior mingled with men as one who desired their good. He showed His sympathy for them, ministered to their needs, and won their confidence. Then He bade them, "Follow Me" (Ministry of Healing, p. 143).

Adventist Community Service's ministries mingle in our communities, bringing Jesus' goodwill to the people. Join us and become the practical hands and feet of God in our world.

This time can be a busy time for many! If you have children in school as I do, it is a blur of Christmas programs, family traditions, and various gatherings of the people I love. It can be a time of great joy or a time of great sorrow, depending on many factors. Once all the busyness of the holiday is done, things actually slow down and reset.

One beautiful thing I have noticed is that where I live, there tends to be a stillness and a quietness in this season. The days are shorter, the weather is colder, and all of that combined slows me and my family down, and we simply adjust our pace to enjoy the rhythm of winter. I recently ran across the term "wintering," referring to easing into the softer pace of the winter season.

As we look back on this year, let's take time to reflect on how God has shown up for us this year. Was there a difficult thing your family went through? Is there a way you can see how prayer helped you navigate that time? Our offering today is for the local church budget. Let us give today from hearts grateful for all that we recognize God has done for us.

GEORGIA-CUMBERLAND CONFERENCE MINISTRIES OFFERING - EVANGELISM

South Georgia will be lit up with the Adventist message, if Pastor Buddy Goodwin and his members from the Waycross and Douglas churches have anything to do with it! They held evangelistic seminars in five different counties of South Georgia in 2023. Two of those counties have no Adventist Church and the third county has no English-speaking Adventist Church. Thanks to your evangelism offerings they are working on establishing small groups, branch sabbath schools and church plants in all five of the unentered counties in their district in the next two to three years.

When they held a prophecy seminar in Baxley, Georgia, they discovered five families who live in the Baxely area, but who drive over an hour to attend church every Sabbath in Jessup, GA. These five families were excited to start working on opening a church in Baxley, so they can invite their friends to a home-town church.

In Pearson, Georgia, Pastor Goodwin and his members also held a prophecy seminar where there is no Adventist Church in that entire county. Five families who were not members came to the seminar and are now studying to prepare for baptism. Because of the distance to the Waycross or Douglas Adventist churches, our pastor and members are looking for a place to rent so these new families can remain in the Pearson community and reach their friends and relatives for the Lord.

"In my district, we have eight counties," Pastor Goodwin says. "Currently, only three of them have an Adventist church. We are praying and working. Through the grace of God, we will establish small groups and branch Sabbath schools for all these dark counties in the next two to three years."

Your brothers and sister in Waycross and Douglas are diligently working for the Savior to "Light Up South Georgia." You supply evangelistic resources to support your pastors leading out in efforts like this all across our Conference through your gift to the Conference evangelism offering.

Lighting up South Georgia with the Adventist message. By ourselves, none of us could reach each of the people in these eight counties. But together, we can! Your offering* today helps to reach even more in our Conference with the message of a soon coming Savior.
